

Of the People, By the People, For the People The Power of Grassroots Movements

Essay prompt:

Throughout history, people have participated in grassroots movements to create changes in their society. Some of these movements are short-lived, but some of them last for many, many years. Explain why grassroots movements are so powerful and so effective. Include at least 2 reasons, along with at least 2 examples of how grassroots movements have actually been used. Conclude by discussing a current issue that you feel would benefit from a grassroots movement.
